BRIEF HISTORICAL PERSPECTIVE

In 1928, a group of Gujarati businessmen who had migrated from Gujarat and settled in Bhawanipur and had adopted Kolkata as their 'Karam Bhoomi', felt the need of starting a school to impart and preserve the Gujarati language, culture and values. Thus was born The Bhawanipur Gujarati School in a rented building at 7 Elgin road and later at 7 Allenby Road. Next 30 years the school saw an increase in the number of students and the introduction of English as a subject. By 1956 the school was able to purchase land at 12B Heysham Road and also construct a building which was inaugurated on Vasant Panchami in 1956. Two years later the school got affiliated to Board of Secondary Education West Bengal and in 1960 the school sent its first batch of students to appear in the West Bengal Higher Secondary Examination. During this period, the school was functioning as two units namely Shree ShreeLaxmi Narayan Deo Trust Primary School which later came to be renamed as Blossoms, for primary education at Elgin Road/Allenby Road while the The Bhawanipur Gujarati School catered to higher education at its present location 12B Heysham Road.

During the year 1968 name of the school was changed to J J Ajmera High School in honour of the benefactors of the school during this period. Next 30 years the school progressed in leaps and bounds and also opened its doors for non Gujarati students also. The JJ Ajmera High School continued to send students to West Bengal Higher Secondary Examination and since 1976 the exam came to be known as the Madhyamik Pariksha. 1996 saw the school building being renovated from two stories to a four story building, which allowed the shift of Primary Section from Elgin Road to the 12B Heysham Road premises.

On the demand of the community a need was felt to offer contemporary education so that students were able to fit in the modern environment. This led to the thought of affiliating the school with modern out looking board of examination like the Council for Indian School Certificate Examination (CISCE), New Delhi. The school in 1998 got itself affiliated to the Council for Indian School Certificate Examination (CISCE), New Delhi under the new name of The Bhawanipur Gujarati Education Society School.

Walking hand in hand with global scenario the need of the hour was introduction of computer technology in teaching of all subjects. The year 1998 saw the teachers being trained in this field so that they could help the students. All the teachers were provided with a Laptop to facilitate their work and till date all teachers continue to be equipped with individual Laptops. Two computer labs were renovated to be on virtual LAN with the capacity of 40 desktops, were provided to the students. Each individual student had access to his/her own machine which was very uncommon in those days for any school.

In the year 2010, modern technology was introduced and consequently smart boards were put up in every class room with Educomp modules assisting the education enrichment process. Having built up a strong infrastructure for Academics, the management focussed on the holistic education for the students of the school. This approach to give importance to extra co curricular activities resulted in construction of a new annex building consisting of three floors, in the year 2013, totally dedicated and custom built for activities of sports, music, cookery etc. in the each of the three floor halls. The success of our students in the ICSE examination has been consistently appreciable. The aim of our school is to provide all round education to our children, walking hand in hand with modern technology. The school is scaling new heights every day and the path ahead is waiting to be tread in bold steps to keep abreast with the paradigm shift. Today the school not only admits students of Gujarati origin but has its door open to students from all type of origin and has an absolute cosmopolitan ambience.

Glimpses of the working of The BGES School (ICSE)

Education's purpose is to replace an empty mind with an open one.

Early childhood is the foundation on which children build the rest of their lives. Starting school is an important step! At The BGES School, we have a carefully planned pre-school induction programme to make the transition from home to school a seamless one which is appropriate to the needs of the child and the guardian. Learning takes place in a secure and stimulating environment where first hand learning experience encourage the development of imagination and creativity.

What children can do, rather than what they cannot do are the starting points in learning. Structured play is important, as playing and speaking are the primary ways through which children learn about themselves and the world around them. During this stage, early learning goals are achieved keeping in mind what most children are expected to master by the end of the 'Foundation Stage'.

CO-CURRICULAR ACTIVITIES AND SPORTS

Sports serve society by providing vivid examples of excellence.

Throughout the year various clubs and activities are organised by the staff. The students are involved in selecting a club of their own. They are formed into groups, and this develops a sense of group identity and togetherness. Various clubs like Cooking Club, Quiz Club, Music Club, Art n Craft Club etc. help the students explore their own thoughts and feelings.

We feel offering children access to such experiences is essential for the students to gain confidence and step out into the world as empowered citizens ready to face the challenges of tomorrow.

Children are also encouraged to participate in a wide range of co-curricular activities organised by members of staff.

Physical Education is a real strength of the curriculum at The Bhawanipur Gujarati Education Society School. The students are encouraged to take part in football, cricket, carrom, chess etc.

We are really determined that children should see subjects not only as fun but challenging too. To further promote this we offer various methods and approaches of learning. Sport is an important aspect of school life and students have many opportunities to participate. In the games room, a wide range of sporting equipment is available for students to use.

We aim to promote physical competence, helping every child to develop their physical potential with and through a variety of activities. P.E. provides opportunities for children to be creative, competitive and to face up to different challenges as individuals and in groups and teams. It also promotes positive attitudes active and healthy lifestyles.

Annual function and Sports help social development and encourage the children to work in pairs, groups and teams.

UNITED WE STAND...UNITED WE COMPETE

(Inter House Competitions)
